PRIVACY POLICY v1.6

- A. To maintain the security and integrity of our Platform, every account must be linked to a verifiable human being (natural person).
- B. Regarding account registration, we collect the following Member data:
 - B.1 The Accountable Person, we collect your name, surname, as well as e-mail address, Discord username, and Discord ID (unique ID).
 - B.2 Should you not be a natural person, for example, you are a company (corporate entity), you will still require an Accountable Person. If you are a corporate entity, we also collect your corporate entity's name, registration number (incorporation ID), as well as the nominated e-mail address.
 - B.3 We require your Minecraft username as well as your Minecraft Marketplace username and/or trading name, whichever is applicable, to identify your participation in the Minecraft Marketplace partnership program.
- C. You may, optionally, provide us with your job title, experience, biography, or any additional information you wish to provide; however, this is not explicitly required.
- D. By accessing the website, either the Accountable Person or the corporate entity, we collect what type of browser you are connecting to our Platform with, your IP address, your interaction on the Platform, timestamps, login-in time, pages viewed, reports generated, and/or exports made. We also record how you interact with the Platform.

3.2 Marketplace intelligence data

We collect aggregated metrics such as download counts, rating performance, market trends, public metadata sourced from Minecraft Marketplace, as well as social media interactions and social media performance. Although not related to you, we are required to disclose the source of data you may access.
- B. The Marketplace intelligence data is obtained lawfully, and we anonymize the data; we do not access, store, or process personal identifiable data of Minecraft Marketplace users.

This means your profile (Name/Corporate Entity) may be visible to other verified members within the platform to verify identity and foster collaboration. We do not sell your contact info to external recruiters or spammers. Although the feature might not yet be available, it will be at a later stage, and you do consent to it.
